The book "Cestode Fauna- A Review" gives detailed information about the species in the Class Cestoda. Research in the Helminth research laboratory in the Department of Zoology, Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar Marathwada University, Aurangabad. The research on cestode fauna has been happening for five decades in the Helminth research laboratory. The published material is a compilation of the research carried out in the lab over the years in the form of a review by including the advances.

Class Cestoda is divided into two subclasses Cestodaria and Eucestoda.

This book gives information about three species from subclass Cestodaria with order Caryophyllidea and 68 species from subclass Eucestoda with nine orders and eighteen families. This book contains information about three new families, 13 new genera with 71 new and redescribed species.

It also covers the Molecular study of nine species from both the subclasses.
